Six Men Killed by Boiler Explosion in Little Engine Room of a New York Coal Barge

TESTING THE BOILER WHEN IT BLEW UP

New York, Aug. 23.—Six men who were testing the boiler of a donkey engine in the hold of the coal barge Patterson were instantly killed today by the explosion of the boiler. A seventh man was seriously injured.

The barge, which belonged to the Erie Railroad company, was hauled out on a railway at Peitjen-Lang's dock in Hoboken to be repaired having been in service from Boston to New York. General overhauling was under way when Captain Hockman, his engineer, and dock hands and four machinists employed by the dock firm went into the engine room to test the boiler. The boiler room was only twelve feet square.

Engineer Gibbons started a fire under the boiler and it had been burning but a short time when the boiler exploded. It was supposed the water under the boiler was low.

The bodies of the men who were crowded in the little engine room without a possibility of escape were terribly torn and one man's head was blown off. The deck of the barge was blown up and the vessel otherwise damaged. Mrs. Hockman, the captain's wife, was at the head of the barge and was uninjured. Her 14 year old son was nearly blown overboard but escaped with slight bruises.

WILL MAKE CANVASS IN THE TENTH WARD

Board Supplies Assistants to Aid Investigation of Enumeration.

In order to expedite and assist in every way possible the investigation of the recent school enumeration in Fort Wayne, now in progress under the direction of Frank B. Long, special agent of the state superintendent for this work, the Fort Wayne school authorities have volunteered to supply two men to work under the direction and control of Mr. Long in delving thoroughly into the returns.

The men are George Beahler and Andrew Schnoesenberg, two of the most competent members of the staff of enumerators. Mr. Long has accepted the tender and has directed Mr. Beahler and Mr. Schnoesenberg to canvass in the Tenth ward for the purpose of comparing their findings with the report made by the enumerator for this ward. Mr. Beahler and Mr. Schnoesenberg are sworn in as special agents of the state superintendent in this work, and their findings will be filed with State Superintendent Cotton as a part of the report to be made to that official by Special Agent Long.

Mr. Long said today that the offer upon the part of the school authorities was entirely voluntary, and he gave Superintendent Study, the city school board and County Superintendent Felger unstinted commendation for the spirit manifested in welcoming the investigation from the moment it was demanded by Terre Haute after the uncovering of irregularities in that city. Mr. Long reiterated his former statement that the Fort Wayne school authorities were assisting him in every way possible to get at the bottom of the situation, and expressed his pleasure at the spirit which had been manifested in the matter from the first.

Just how much more time will be required to complete the investigation here, Mr. Long was unable to say. Nor could he, in advance of his report to the state superintendent, disclose any of the results of the work thus far. In view of the fact that Mr. Beahler and Mr. Schnoesenberg have been directed to make a canvass in the Tenth ward, however, it is evident that the report on Fort Wayne will hardly be submitted to the state superintendent for a week or more. Neither of the men named were working in the Tenth ward during the original enumeration. They may remain at work under the direction of Mr. Long as long as he may require their services, and the expense is to be borne by the school city.

It is explained that no recount of any ward has been ordered; that when the board volunteered to provide the men to assist in the work, Mr. Long simply selected the Tenth ward as the one in which they were to make a canvass in order to compare the findings with the original enumeration.

CLOSES LAST BRANCH BANK.

State Auditor Reports Illegal Institutions Are No More.

Indianapolis, Aug. 23.—Indiana is now entirely without branch banks, according to announcements that come from the state auditor's office. Several weeks ago Auditor Billheimer ordered all the state and private branch banks closed pursuant to an opinion by Attorney General James Bingham to the effect that they were without lawful existence.

For several days following the order anonymous letters were received at the office telling of banks that were in operation "on the sly," but the auditor hunted down the banks and forced them to close. A total of eight branch banks closed their doors, the last being the branch bank operated by the People's State bank at Brownstown.

W. H. McIntyre, of Auburn, is in the city.

A CAVE-IN ENTRAPS MINERS AND FOUR ARE ENTOMBED

Voice of One Heard, But Later Silence Indicates All Dead.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 23.—Four of the miners who were yesterday caught in the cave-in in No. 14 tunnel of the Pennsylvania Coal company, near here, are still entombed and it is believed they are dead. The voice of James Boyle, one of the entombed men, was heard this morning, but since then silence has reigned in the vicinity of the cave-in. Boyle's companions are Peter Flynn, John Koening and Joseph Koening. The cave-in was caused by a heavy fall of rock. Six men were caught, but two of them crawled from under the debris after several hours' effort. One of these, Michael Naughton, was badly injured, but the other man escaped unhurt. Rescuing parties working in the shifts bored all night to free the men still in the mines.

DECLINES TO OPEN BOOKS TO STATE COMMISSION

New York Corporation Quiz Board Defied by Traction Combination.

New York, Aug. 23.—Announcement was made today that the head of the Introborough Metropolitan company, a traction combination here, had refused to open their books to the public service commission. The commission has been notified that because the company is not a railroad corporation, but merely a holding concern, in the belief of the officers of the Introborough Metropolitan company, it is not within the jurisdiction of the commission.

NEXT MEETING MONDAY.

Much Interest in Sunday School Teachers' Training Course.

There is much interest manifested in the movement for a training course for Sunday school teachers in this city, and at the preliminary meeting held at the Wayne Street M. E. church Sunday afternoon forty-three persons representing ten Sunday schools were present.

It is designed to make the movement so general as to embrace the entire city, and further arrangements are to be considered at a meeting to be held at Wayne Street M. E. church next Monday evening. All who are interested in Sunday school work are urged to be present at this time.

RESULT IS IN DOUBT.

Gubernatorial Primaries in Mississippi Are Held.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 23.—The result of yesterday's primary election for the democratic gubernatorial nomination is decidedly in doubt. Returns are decidedly slow in arriving here and the managers for Noel and Brewer both claim the election of their man complete. Unofficial returns from sixty-eight of the seventy-eight counties in the state indicate that Noel has a lead of about 1,000 votes.

GETTING READY TO HIT OIL OCTOPUS IN VITALS

Government Purposes an Attack on Character of the Trust.

Washington, Aug. 23.—A conference here yesterday between Attorney General Bonaparte, Judge Frank B. Kellogg, of St. Paul, and Charles D. Morrison, of Chicago, the latter being special attorney for the government in the Standard Oil dissolution case, has caused considerable comment and aroused the belief that the department of justice will proceed at once in the effort to break up the oil monopoly by forfeiting the franchise of the organization.

What strengthens the belief is the fact that Attorney General Bonaparte had a lengthy conference several days ago with Mr. Morrison, when the subject was considered in all its phases. It is also intimated that the attorney general is making preparations to prosecute individuals of the Standard Oil company under the provisions of the Sherman law, and that the action will be pressed without delay and with the greatest vigor.

Plan Criminal Proceedings.

When officials of the department of justice were questioned on the subject they refused to discuss the matter. Neither Mr. Kellogg nor Mr. Morrison would say anything on yesterday's conference. Their presence at the department together occasioned a report to the effect that Mr. Bonaparte was now considering the bringing of criminal proceedings against individuals of the Standard.

It is not thought that John D. Rockefeller himself stands in any great danger of prosecutions, as it is practically admitted that the government would hardly be able to connect him with the affairs of the company to such an extent as to warrant the bringing of criminal proceedings. If it can be shown, however, that H. H. Rogers, John D. Archbold, or any one else who participates actively in the management of the company's business, has been engaged in maintaining a monopoly harmful to the public, their appearance in court will be asked in any civil suits that may be pending.

WRANGLE OVER DIVIDEND.

Oil Trust Directors Divided on Question of Quarterly Distribution.

New York, Aug. 23.—That Wall street almost enjoyed the sensation of the Standard Oil company passing its usual quarterly dividend of $6 a share was declared in the financial district yesterday. The regular meeting found the directors sharply divided on the dividend subject. Several of them declared with emphasis that the dividend should be paid as a rebuke to the administration and particularly in view of the $29,240,000 fine levied by Judge Landis against the subsidiary company. The exact lineup of the directors on the rebuke question could not be learned. The directors who

NEW YORKERS FACE A FRESH MEAT FAMINE

Wagon Drivers Strike and Vegetarian Diet is in Early Prospect.

New York, Aug. 23.—Delivery of meat from the local packing houses was completely restricted today by the 400 wagon drivers who went on a strike last evening.

Not a delivery on the wagons of the wholesale butchers was made during the morning hours. The packers said only meat from the Chicago refrigerator trains was being delivered, and that the drivers who handle that may be called out on strike today. With a stoppage of delivery from the meat trains the city then would be quickly affected by a meat famine.

Police reserves were stationed in the packing house district on the west side of the city, but no disturbances were reported.

Representatives of the Cudahy Packing company, the Nelson Morris & Co., the Armour Packing company and Swife & Co., state that they have large packing refrigerator plants on the west side where dressed beef can be received from the west and distributed and will not be effected by the strike and where customers can send their wagons for meat as usual.

Half a dozen strikers held up a delivery wagon of the New York Butchers' Dressed Beef company and attempted to drive Superintendent Brown, of that company, and his drivers off of the wagon seat. Superintendent Brown, who was formerly a police captain, attacked the strikers and put them to flight.

A possibility that the strike may extend until it embraces all branches of the packing industry was intimated today by Joseph A. Masterson, head of the butchers' craft.

$100 BILL IN BASKET.

Fine Collection at Mission Festival of St. John's Church.

The mission feast held last Sunday at Swinney park by the congregation of St. John's Lutheran church was one of the most successful in many years. The sermons were excellent, and the collections for mission work were $500, which is about $100 in excess of the sum contributed a year ago. Among the donations this year was a $100 bill which found its way into the basket from the hand of some liberal friend of the mission cause.

FIRE IN CINCINNATI CAUSES LOSS OF $750,000

Wide Area Burned Over and Many Concerns Wiped Out by Flames.

Cincinnati, Aug. 23.—A shift in the wind aided the firemen in their heroic efforts to overcome the fire that started in the Eagle White Lead plant last night.

Five hours after the flames were discovered the fire was under control, after wiping out property valued at $750,000, driving hundreds of tenement dwellers from their homes and leaving waste several acres of ground.

Nearly everything on the irregular block bounded by Broadway and Hunt street and the tracks of the Norfolk and Western railroad was destroyed.

Only one man was injured and his injuries were not serious. The principal losers were the Eagle White Lead company, $50,000; Morrison & Snodgrass, window sash manufacturers, $100,000; C. F. Williams Valve company, $100,000; D. H. Kroger, wholesale and retail grocery warehouse, $350,000; E. Roberts & Co., wholesale lumber, $20,000; Isaac Joseph Co., waste and scrap iron, $115,000; Cincinnati, Lebanon and Northern, and the Norfolk and Western railroad, $3,000. Minor losses to tenements, saloons and retail groceries bring the total to $750,000.

WEALTHY MAN SLAIN BY ROBBERS IN CHICAGO

Body of Contractor Found in Basement Stairway—Had Been Robbed.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—The body of Ezander McIver, a wealthy contractor, residing at 3554 Prairie avenue, was found today in a stairway leading to a basement at the corner of Forty-fifth and State streets. There were marks of violence on the body. All of the money and valuable had been taken, and it is the opinion of the police that McIver was murdered and thrown down the stairway. Death had evidently been caused by a blow on the head that fractured the skull.

BRUNSON SUES DIAMOND COMPANY FOR HIS INVESTMENT

Says He is Entitled to His Money Or a Diamond—The Courts.

Frederick A. Brunson has brought suit in the superior court against the Commercial Diamond Investment company demanding the sum of $250 because, he alleges, that he was not awarded a diamond which he is entitled to receive. Phil B. Colerick is his attorney.

He stated to his lawyer that the concern, which is located in the Lau block, receives payments of stated amounts either monthly or weekly and at certain intervals diamonds are awarded by number to the holder of lucky tickets and that in event a member does not get a stone in the course of the drawing he gets one anyhow after he has paid in a certain amount. Brunson said he had paid in the amount and had also been the holder of a number that entitled him to a diamond, but that he had been unable to get it and he filed the suit.

Evidence is Heard.

A portion of the evidence in the divorce suit of Caroline Minnerly against Joel Minnerly was heard in the superior court this morning and the matter was held up until testimony showing the residence of the applicant has been introduced. She charges desertion. Minnerly is in the soldiers' home at Marion, Ind.

METHODISTS VOTE FOR SUMMER HOME AT WINONA

Rev. C. U. Wade Active in Movement for New Headquarters.

Winona Lake, Ind., Aug. 23.—There are hundreds of Methodists from Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and other states attending the Winona Bible conference this week, and they held an enthusiastic meeting at the Westminster hotel, owned by Presbyterians, yesterday afternoon, when, without a dissenting voice, it was voted that this be made the summer resort of Methodism; that the effort that has been under way for a year to erect a pretentious hotel here be pushed to a finish, and a committee was named to perfect a permanent organization, which will report at a meeting to be held this afternoon.

Rev. C. U. Wade, presiding elder of the Fort Wayne district, presided yesterday afternoon, and there were many ministers and laymen heard on the questions. It was the opinion that the Methodist church could not go into the proposed building enterprise, but that it should be carried out by the churchmen as individuals. It was also said that the Methodists of Indiana are now homeless so far as having a summer retreat at which to gather, and that members of the church are coming to Winona in growing numbers every year for the reason that this has become an interdenominational resort. Some of the speakers said that the Methodists could not hope to establish a summering place in Indiana for their exclusive use with less than years of time and a large sum of money, while at Winona the gates already swing open to Methodism and several thousand members of the church come here year after year and feel at home.

Rev. L. J. Naftzger, of Muncie, said if the Methodists had a summer resort of their own, they could not get out of it the religious and social values that they get at Winona, where Presbyterians, Baptists, United Brethren and other denominations are mingled together. It is not the purpose to open headquarters here for the Methodists of Indiana only, but members of the church from all over the country will be asked to join in the Winona Methodist movement. The members of the church in Ohio and Illinois will be included especially, as they, as well as the church workers of Indiana, are without a place in which to gather in the summer.

Dr. Wade and Dr. W. J. Vigus, of Wabash, secretary of the tentative organization, have in the last year developed the hotel project here to the point where eight building lots have been obtained for the Methodist structure. The lots adjoin the Westminster. Dr. Vigus also has obtained subscriptions for stock amounting to $6,000. The Methodist Building association is a stock enterprise, incorporated under the laws of the state, with $50,000 capital stock. There has been some opposition to the proposed building from the Methodist Preachers' Aid society, which owns a small frame hotel here, given to the society by Elijah Hays, who died recently at Warsaw. This building was erected several years ago and several of the speakers yesterday said that it did not measure with the dignity of the church in this state. The speakers urged that if a Methodist hotel is erected here that it be made as pretentious as the Presbyterian's Westminster, which cost $80,000. It is the plan, should the new hotel be erected, to sell the structure owned by the Preachers' Aid society.

Dr. Vigus announced that the Methodist building would be used as a hotel during the summer months and that a tenant had already been found who would rent it for ten months in the year on a basis of 5 per cent. of the cost of the structure. He said that although the Westminster was opened as a hotel less than two months ago it is already earning for its stockholders 5 per cent. on an investment of $80,000.

Speakers during the meeting not only pledged themselves to take stock in the Methodist enterprise, but said they would see to it that the whole stock issue is taken by members of the church in Indiana.

One of the most earnest talks of the afternoon was by J. Fred Beyer, one of the founders of the Winona resort when it was known as Spring Fountain park. He said that he had been in the Winona work from its beginning and believed that it is only beginning to grow. He urged the Methodists to come into the movement, "the sooner the better."

FINANCIAL RELIEF FOR WIRE MEN IS NOW READY

Striking Telegraphers Now to Draw the War Benefit.

New York, Aug. 23.—Striking telegraph operators who, as a result of more than a week's idleness are without funds, may now apply to the unions' finance committee for relief, according to an announcement made today by Deputy National President Thomas. Mr. Thomas also announced that President Small, of the national organization, who is due to reach New York next Sunday, will address a meeting of the strikers at their headquarters that afternoon. General Manager Nally, of the Postal, and Superintendent Brooks, of the Western Union, said today that from their point of view, the situation is steadily improving. Superintendent Brooks said that the Western Union will retain in its service the men employed to fill vacancies resulting from the strike and that none of the old operators whose places have been filled will be allowed to return.

SPIES CAUSED STRIKE.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Dangerous spies are employed by the Postal and Western Union, according to President S. J. Small. "These spies are responsible for the present stampede strike," he charges, "and are also trying to cause a stampede strike of the railroad telegraphers. These spies are endeavoring to get us into as much trouble as possible," he said yesterday. "They manipulated things so that the stampede strike was begun and are now using their every effort to spread the trouble to the railway telegraphers.

"I wish the newspapers would say nothing about our strike," continued President Small. "President Clowry of the Western Union sent out a congratulatory letter to his superintendents. The letter was somewhat premature. He may desire the newspapers to print long stories of the strike, but I do not. We will win anyway, whatever is said."

The sensational statement of President Small placed a new light on the strike of the telegraphers, and was used to demonstrate that the national officers had opposed the calling of the walkout. Officials of the telegraph companies said that they were securing new men every day. The entire south, the far west and the great northwest are without telegraphic communication, according to a statement issued yesterday by President Small. Mr. Small will go to New York on Saturday.

"And I am not going there to seek arbitration," he said. "All this talk about the companies doing a normal business is bosh. The Western Union is only doing 25 per cent. of its normal business. Ten per cent. of this is done over the wires and the 15 per cent. is transmitted through the mails.

Sager Defends Strikers.

"It is time that the rulers of the nation step in and give these men justice. It is time the conscience of the nation awoke and rallied to their relief."

The most startling utterance from an authoritative source since the beginning of the telegraphers' strike was delivered yesterday by President H. N. Sager, of the Chicago Board of Trade when he made the above declaration.

"When a large class of men with the intellectual caliber that these telegraphers represent are convinced that they are being wronged and when such conditions as the strikers claim exist I say it is time for the rulers of the nation to act.

WILL ASK PUBLIC AID IN SUPPORT OF STRIKE

Local Commercial Telegraphers Held Meeting Last Evening.

Fort Wayne members of the Commercial Telegraphers' union who are out on strike in common with members of the organization all over the United States, held a meeting last evening, and voted to select a committee to canvass for donations from the general public to help out the scant treasury in support of the strike.

Chris Weller was elected president pro tem. of the local union in the absence of President Selden Morey, who is out of the city, and the local situation was canvassed thoroughly. All the local men who went out when the strike was called are remaining firm.

The committee to solicit aid from those who are favorable to the cause of the striking operators is composed of Alex T. Stewart, Associated Press; Henry Klenke, Perry-Irwin brokerage office; C. W. Donaldson and Edward Bresnahan, of the Postal.

AUTOMOBILE WAS WRECKED.

Fred Norris, of South Whitley, had a new automobile badly broken this afternoon in a collision with a wire pole of the traction company, at the corner of Superior and Calhoun streets. Mr. Norris had just purchased a new motor car in Auburn and was taking it home when the accident occurred. The machine skidded on the wet pavement.

WHAT CUBA IS COSTING.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 23.—It cost the American government $2,554,970 in addition to the regular ordinary expenses to keep the American army of Cuban pacification in that island during the fiscal year of 1907.

BOARD MODIFIES ACTION AND ORDERS BRICK FOR PAVING

Change Made in Material for Winter Street—Awards Made.

After a long consultation the board of public works this afternoon decided to modify its action taken in the matter of paving Winter street from Lewis to Pontiac and decided to use brick instead of asphalt as had previously been agreed. When the matter came up last night it was contested and a legal discussion was brought up between the two paving industries involving the question as to whether or not people who held lots on contracts were resident free holders and the whole matter was taken under advisement until today.

A new element entered into the controversy when the discovery was made that the engineer's estimate of the cost of the improvement exceeds fifty per cent of the taxed valuation of the assessable property. Brick will probably be cheaper and this will probably obviate that difficulty. Contracts for cement sidewalks on both sides of Clinton street from Wayne to Lewis were awarded to the Moellering Construction company. This was postponed at the meeting last night.

William T. Mannix was the promoter who turned the tide against asphalt on Winter street. When he undertook the task of changing the sentiment of property owners the outlook was not promising. From all accounts his zeal has been unflagging and his industry indefatigable.

Derheimer & Co. landed all of the sidewalk contracts and will be awarded contracts for both sides of Wayne, Calhoun to Harmer; both sides Washington, Calhoun to Barr; both sides of Jefferson, Calhoun to Barr; and both sides of Lewis, Calhoun to Barr.

The bids were as follows:

Wayne street—Moellering Construction Co., 95 cents a running foot for seven-foot width, $1.15 for eight-foot, $1.37 for ten-foot and $1.58 for eleven-foot, eight inch; Derheimer & Co., 83 8-10 cents, $1.08, $1.34, and $1.35 6-10; O. F. Menefee, $1.03, $1.15, $1.43, and $1.56; E. W. Seamans, $1.12, $1.16, $1.60 and $1.69.

Washington boulevard east—Moellering Co., $1.53 a running foot for seven-foot, eight inch width and $1.15 for eight-foot; Derheimer, $1.44 3-4 and $1.07; Menefee, $1.60 1-2, and $1.20 1-2; Seamans, $1.72 and $1.28.

Jefferson street — Moellering Co., $1.06 a running foot for eight-foot width and $1.12 for seven and one-half foot; Derheimer, $1.02 1-4 and $1.08 1-4; Menefee, $1.14 2-5, and $1.21 1-2; Seamans, $1.23 and $1.33.

Lewis street—Moellering Co., 98 cents a running foot; Derheimer 91 1-8 cents; Menefee, 95 cents; Seamans, $1.08.

Clinton street—Moellering Co., $1.00 for eight-foot width and 87 1-2 cents for seven-foot width; Derheimer, $1.03 1-4 and 84 1-3 cents; Menefee, $1.03 3-5 and 93 2-5 cents; Seamans, $1.16 and $1.02.

Resolutions were confirmed for cement walks on the east side of Webster, from Creighton to Woodland; south side of Creighton, from Fairfield to South Wayne; paving Brackenridge with asphalt from Fairfield to Broadway; cement walks on the south side of Madison, from Harmer to Division.

Action on the resolution for cement walks on the east side of Wells, from Cass to First, was postponed to October 3.

Plans were ordered for cement walks on the east side of Indiana avenue. A petition for paving Harrison street, from Grand to Butler with asphalt, was filed. Petitions were received for cement walks on both sides of Packard, from Beaver to Broadway, and for cement walks on the west side of Indiana, from Dayton to Cottage.

TOOK SUIT OF CLOTHES.

Police Unable to Locate a Nervy House Robber.

The police have been looking all day for a thief who entered the home of B. H. Bohey, 704 West Superior street, yesterday, and stole a suit of clothes, two rings and some silverware. He changed his clothing in the house and wore away the one he pilfered.

ing noon hour. His age was 23 years and 11 months.

Mr. Schmidt was assistant cashier of the Wayne Knitting mills, a position which he accepted but a few weeks ago after having resigned a clerkship in the electric lighting offices of the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company. Prior to taking the place with the traction company he was in the employ of the Indiana Furniture company. He was born and reared in this city, was a member of St. John's Lutheran church, was active in the social affairs of that congregation and was secretary of the Luther society attached to St. John's church. Mr. Schmidt was a young man of fine personality and unusual promise, and his death will be a severe shock to a very large circle of friends.

His death is the second in the family within a few months. His mother died but six months ago, and surviving members of the family include the father and three brothers—Harry, Carl and Edwin Schmidt. Funeral services Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence and at 2:30 from St. John's Lutheran church.

The remains will be taken to South Whitley for interment.

The one that got the black eye had the other arrested for assault and battery and the other had the one arrested for provoke.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good!! Hereafter for this very reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

S.S.S. CURES ECZEMA

The cause of Eczema is a too acid condition of the blood. The itching, burning eruptions are caused by the outpouring through the pores and glands of the skin, of the fiery poisons with which the circulation is loaded. This acrid matter coming in contact with the delicate tissues and fibres with which the skin is so abundantly supplied causes irritation and inflammation and often excessive discomfort and annoyance. While external applications, such as salves, washes, lotions, etc., are soothing and cleansing they are in no wise curative, because they do not reach the blood where the trouble is located. You can never cure Eczema with outside treatment; the blood must be purified. S. S. S. is the best treatment for the disease. It goes down into the circulation, neutralizes the acids and humors with which the blood is infected, and makes the blood-current fresh and healthy. Then instead of fiery, acrid matter oozing out through the pores and glands, irritating the cuticle, the skin is nourished by a rich, cooling, healthy stream of blood. S. S. S. removes every trace of the disease, and when the cure is complete the skin is left smooth and free from any eruption. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice furnished free of charge to all who write. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

The body of John Bell, a former Peru saloonkeeper, who disappeared from that city two or three weeks ago, has been found in the woods near Minneapolis, Minn. At the time Bell disappeared it was rumored he had been having domestic troubles.

The Pierceton Presbyterian church members are paying off the church debt in a novel way. Gummed slips of paper are being sent out to ladies asking that a foot of pennies (sixteen) be pasted in the slip and returned. It is proposed to collect a mile of pennies—5,280 feet or $844.80.

Dr. Henry C. Widup, a pioneer dentist at Columbia City, has submitted to an operation for the amputation of his right foot, made necessary by a gangrenous condition which has been manifest for some time. The annual picnic of the farmers of Northern Indiana and Southern Michigan was held Thursday on the banks of Lake George, near Jamestown, Steuben county. Many old walnut and white oak logs which have been buried in the bed of the north branch of Cow creek, at Roanoke, about seventy years are being removed by the section men of the trolley line, who are cleaning the stream for the concrete abutments of the new bridge at that place. Under the direction of Fire Chief, C. F. Graham, Ligonier is to be divided into fifteen districts, as the first step in the installation of the electric fire alarm system, which the department, with the aid of the city, has purchased. The new system will be a combination of the local telephone service and an electric connection with the fire bell, which will sound the number of any district by the use of a simple device at the desk of the telephone operator. For the present only the business section will be supplied with fire boxes for turning in the alarm.

When John Ramsey, aged 30 years, learned that Mayor Charles Rigdon, of Warsaw, had banished Walter Myers, aged 27 years, from this city for a period of two years, he hurried back to Warsaw in violation of Mayor Rigdon's order that he remain away for all time to come. Ramsey claims Warsaw as his home. So does Myers. Somewhere near this city they got their heads together and decided that the city's chief executive had no right to ostracise them. Myers, fearing that Mayor Rigdon would carry out his threat of bringing a ball and chain into play, has not yet returned, but Ramsey, who is in a cell at the county jail, predicts that he will come back. "We've reached the conclusion that Mayor Rigdon can't banish anybody. That settles it," said Ramsey. Both were branded as public nuisances by Mayor Rigdon.

HAD AN AWFUL TIME.

But Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Cured Him.

It is with pleasure that I gave you this unsolicited testimonial. About a year ago when I had a severe case of measles I got caught out in a hard rain and the measles settled in my stomach and bowels. I had an awful time and had it not been for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I could not have possibly lived but a few hours longer, but thanks to this remedy I am now strong and well. I have written the above through simple gratitude and I shall always speak a good word for this remedy.—Sam H. Gwin, Concord, Ga. For sale by all druggists.

CLOWN STUNTS ALL NEW

Comedy Element of Big Circus a Striking Feature.

Novelty prevails throughout the entire performance of the Forepaugh and Sells Bros.' circus, even the clowns furnishing an absolutely new and original set of tricks.

A number of European comedians of the arena have been introduced to add to the variety, and every pause in the ring performances is filled with grotesque stunts that are followed by howls of laughter. There are forty of these funny men and the variety of their frolics is infinite. Besides these clowns are a score of burlesque performers, who present travesties on bar and trapeze acts and gymnastic stunts. Prominent among these are the Shrievers, and the Corrallas, while the grotesque rink scene of the Donegans is the funniest clown act ever originated. The Forepaugh and Sells Bros. in organizing this season have introduced so much that is novel, added to and otherwise improved their circus that it is today not alone the biggest and best but an absolute departure from all others.

There is nothing in it that can be seen with any other show. The parade is a new creation in street displays, and the spectacle "Fighting the Flames" that opens the main program cost one million dollars and is the most gorgeously beautiful and thrilling entertainment ever conceived. In it alone are required 1,200 people, 500 horses, 300 vehicles, a trainload of scenery and a company of professional firemen with engines, hose carts, hook and ladder wagons and ambulances.

The Forepaugh and Sells Bros.' circus will give two performances in Fort Wayne on September 2. The new parade will take place at 10 o'clock in the morning.

The world's greatest aerialists are the Flying Fishers, who are with the Forepaugh and Sells Bros.' circus. One of the family has succeeded in turning a complete triple twisting somersault. He is the only one who has ever accomplished this feat.

Mr. Foraker thinks Mr. Taft big enough for notice, whatever Mr. Taft may think of Mr. Foraker.

Can't tell yet whether the Erwin and Adair gubernatorial booms will result in a conjunction or a collision. Bound to hitch up some way, close together as they are.

Very kind of Comptroller Schmidt to point the way to the side track for those citizens who believe a decent respect for the laws of the state is essential both to good citizenship and orderly government.

Wisconsin man in touch with the millennial dawn predicts end of the world in 1915. Eight years is not long in which to dispose of all unfinished business, but will probably permit collection of the Standard Oil fine and completion of the Panama canal.

Federal government planning to forfeit the franchise of the Standard oil company and send its big men to prison. May go a bit too fast in this. Ought to get some kind of settlement of that twenty-nine millions before final dissolution.

Just a bit singular, isn't it, that the fellows who with prophetic vision see dire things for the republic from enlargment of the federal executive powers do not get even a whiff of danger from the oligrachic tendencies of the times. Stripped to the bone the issue is whether the people would not rather trust to the patriotism of a Roosevelt or a Bryan than to the rapacity of a Rockefeller or a Harriman.

Unique, interesting, refreshing. St. Louis brewers in convention assembled served notice on saloonkeepers that all who violate the Sunday closing law in that city will be forthwith boycotted by the brewers and no beer will be sold to them. There's an agency for law-enforcement that is likely to compel the notice of saloonists who regard Sunday closing statutes as mere encumbrance of the law books. Don't believe the St. Louis precedent is likely to start anything here, but we heartily commend it to the notice of local brewers; likewise their patrons.

Some rather too fussy New York health officials want the dairy cow reformed by depriving bossy of the long hair on her tail. Where would they have the long hair if not on her tail and of what use would be her switch if she can't have long hair on it? Propose that this reform be dropped. Opens up too long a vista of discussion. Also might get dragged into the nature faker controversy. Somebody will be coming forward with a statute or an ordinance or a federal enactment or an executive order designed to stop biddy from soiling her feet by scratching in the dirt. But, returning to the cow, might be no harm in making her keep her back hair in a net at milking time.

No one wants taxes raised, but at the same time no sensible citizen and taxpayer will commit himself to the proposition that the city government of Fort Wayne was established and ordained for the sole and specific purpose of keeping the levy at a dollar. We doubt not that by prudent trimming here and there and economy in all places and always the city hall will contrive to get along practicably with the revenues produced by the present levy. This brief comment is inspired by some recent discussion of the forthcoming appropriations for city uses. The view seems to be held by some that it would be unconstitutional or something worse to boost the levy, even in case necessity demanded it.

Suppose the Sunday closing "agitators" will now be good, or least try to. Comptroller Schmidt uncorks the prediction dire that "If this agitation against Sunday saloons continues permanently some saloons are bound to go out of business and the city will lose revenue from this source." Hard lines, truly, that mark the way beeline for the slough of despond. See no way to avert the impending disaster. Sunday closing agitators seem quite obstinate and are likely to hitch up for a fresh start upon the comptroller's penetrating forecast that some saloons are front to front with necessity for putting up the shutters and locking the door. The deficit in revenues from license fees might some of it get a chance to get in the city till by the saving of the half million dollars annually spent in the Sunday saloons of Fort Wayne. Would be an experiment of some promise. Hope the Sunday closing agitators will see that the city is put in the way of a trial of this. Might be found possible to dispense with all revenues so derived.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Andy Thieme, the Broadway grocer, has sold out the business to his son, John.

Fort Wayne commandery, K. T., will drill at the fair grounds Thursday evening.

A new telephone list will be issued in a few weeks. It will be printed in pamphlet form.

The American band excursion to Rome City Friday will be the most enjoyable of the season.

At the Academy of Music, September 14 a concert will be given for the benefit of the City hospital.

The Gazette company is today moving into its new and commodious quarters on East Berry street.

A traveling man at the Aveline today was mistaken by several gentlemen for Marshal Falker, whom he resembles strikingly.

Sam L. Morris, the lawyer, energetically bet cigars on his favorite club, the Golden Eagles. Reporters on the city papers smoked them.

John H. Cody and others are now using Pyke lake ice shipped here from Warsaw by C. O'Crowley & Co. The ice is the cleanest and best ever seen in the city.

O. L. Perry has connected his private apartments by wire with the Western Union office and main wires, and from this seclusion can hear everything that goes on all over the world.

Some saloon keepers have questioned the right of the chief of police to close the saloon at midnight. If they would read section 19 of the code they would find that the chief could be made to serve, and according to the letter of the law close the saloons from 11 p. m., to 5 a. m., and entirely on Sundays.

The Citizens' Street Railroad company protested to the city council against the ordinance compelling it to keep in repair a space of one foot on each side of its tracks on streets on which the line runs, as such a requirement would be oppressive on an institution barely self-sustaining. The protest was filed.

LEAVES HOME TO KILL SELF.

Peru Man Found Dead at Minneapolis After Mysterious Disappearance.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 23.—John Bell, of Peru, Ind., whose body was found lying in the woods near B street and Twenty-fifth avenue, northeast, early Tuesday evening committed suicide because of family troubles, according to John Davidson, of Peru, who is in the city at present. Mr. Davidson read of the discovery of Bell's body and went to the morgue, where he identified the remains.

Bell was a saloon keeper in Peru and has been missing for three weeks. Prior to his departure, it is said, he had trouble with some of his relatives and at that time threatened to kill himself. Why he came to Minneapolis to kill himself is a mystery as far as Mr. Davidson knew. Bell had no friends in this city and had no business here that would attract him.

DOG DAYS GOSSIP FROM THE CAPITAL OF NATION

Taft as President to Have Policy of His Own is the Expectation.

W hington, Aug. 23.—Their anxious fear quieted by the reassuring utterance of President Roosevelt in his spe a last Tuesday and that of his chie lieutenant a few hours earlier, Was ngtonians have begun a careful ana is of the two addresses. Many prof s to see in Secretary Taft's Colum is speech only a restatement of Roo iveltian policies, made in unequ ocal support of his chief, while othe s are equally insistent that Mr. Taf differing with Resident Roosevelt in several important respects, laid dow the platform upon which he will stan should he get the party nomination next year. Naturally, Judge Taft eulogized his chief; they have worked together and will continue to do so. But if he enters the white house, the Ohio man is so much of an individual in his own right that Taft policies soon will have to be reckoned with. And it certainly appears that the portly war secretary has a good chance, if reports from various sections are to be believed.

Congressman-at-large George L. Lilley, fresh from a tour of New England, declares it is his belief that the Taft sentiment in that section will assume monopolistic proportions between now and the time of the national convention, and predicts the nomination of the secretary of war without any serious opposition. Mr. Lilley thinks Mr. Taft's speech has commended him to the whole country as a safe and sane candidate, and believes the conservative line he has drawn will make him acceptable to both factions of the G. O. P. Indiana it would appear, also will rally to the support of Mr. Taft's candidacy. Thomas E. Davidson, a prominent attorney of the Hoosier State who is at present in the capital, and who keeps in close touch with things political in his state, asserts that although Indiana republicans will first of all support Vice President Fairbanks in the event he has a fighting chance, they will vote solidly for the Ohioan as second choice. This same tendency to put Taft second only to the "favorite son" is evident in Pennsylvania, and in several other states which have receptive candidates, and it would seem to argue well for him.

For a day this week, though, Washington forgot all about politics, presidential candidates, and the like, and seriously considered the importance of river and harbor improvements. Washington has been interested, of course, in this problem ever since the National Rivers and Harbors congress, which held its last two conventions here, began its crusade to arouse the American public to the commercial necessity for the comprehensive treatment of its waterways in building up a great transportation system that would be auxiliary and not competitory to the railroads. But the capital city's interest did not possess the intensity that comes only wih the realization of personal and local need. However, Washington is interested enough now, and Captain J. F. Ellison, of Cincinnati, secretary of the National Rivers & Harbors congress, doubtless could win many converts to his organization and its work. The reason for it all is this: One of the big river steamers plying between Washington and Norfolk, Va., ran aground in the middle of the channel about forty miles down the Potomac, while bringing 365 passengers up from the exposition, and from dawn 'til midnight, through the tedious watches of a sultry day, those three hundred and odd souls fretted and fumed, and starved—for the boat only was provisioned for one night—until they were taken off by an excursion steamer and landed in Washington nearly twenty-four hours after they had expected to arrive. Throughout the day efforts were made by passing tugs and small steamers to pull the big passenger boat off the sandbar, but without result. The accident came in good season, for the National Rivers and Harbors congress is making strenuous efforts to recruit a larger membership in order that its influence with the Sixtieth congress may be such as will compel the appopriation of a larger sum even than was set aside at the last session for this class of internal improvements. It is striving to enlist the moral and financial support of every community and every firm in the country in the furtherance of its campaign.

Considerable importance attaches to the plans on foot in the war and navy departments to improve the land and naval establishments of the country's defenders, and it would seem that the recent war talk was the ill wind that brought good. With the real possibility of war before them, the officials who rule over the destinies of Uncle Sam's army and navy began seriously to consider how they could bring the two branches of the service up to the highest standard of efficiency. And it was surprising to learn how many changes can be made which will tend to better the fighting forces of the nation and at the same time reduce the cost of upkeep to the minimum. The house committee on naval affairs has just left on a two weeks' tour of inspection of the navy yards of the Atlantic seaboard, and its chairman, Congressman George E. Foss, of Chicago, declares that much of the committee's time in the coming session will be devoted to reorganizing things generally. Announcement also has been made that the war department will establish at Fort Monroe a coast defense school where all new officers and recruits will be instructed in the art of planting mines, firing torpedoes and manning seaboard fortifications. It is likely that, as suggested recently, congress will be asked to consider the question of separating the coast artillery from the army and making it part and parcel of the naval establishment, and it is predicted that this change will effect much for the good of the service.

The appointment of Prof. William R. Manning, of Purdue university, to the chair of diplomatic history in the new college of the Political Sciences connected with the George Washington university, marks the first recognition of the diplomatic aspect of history as entitled to distinct and separate study, and with this innovation George Washington university stands forth as the only institution in the country which has a chair of diplomatic history, as distinguished on the one hand from political history, and on the other from international law. The new title is indicative of the great change that has taken place during the past ten years in the position of the United States among the world's great nations. This change of attitude brings with it the necessity for a larger outlook, the need on the part of our statesmen and moulders of public opinion of a thorough knowledge not only of present international law but of the history of diplomatic relations out of which that law has been evolved. In its plan, therefore, to train men for the diplomatic service, the George Washington university will provide instruction in the history and practice of diplomacy. Considerable difficulty was experienced by the university in obtaining the services of a man, in other respects qualified to fill the vacancy, who had made more than an elementary study of diplomatic history, and this difficulty only served to emphasize the fact that it is the pioneer institution in this field. This undoubtedly will give the university added prestige in its campaign to raise itself to the position of the great American graduate school.

Oslerism was practiced here in Washington this week, and the National Zoo mourns the loss of Lobengula, the largest African lion in captivity, and one of the most perfect specimens ever brought to this country. The big beast was nearly twenty years old, having been presented to the zoo when a cub by Henry C. Moore, a United States consul during President Cleveland's second administration, and has been one of the leading attractions at the park for a long time. Early last spring, the big lion suffered an attack of pneumonia, from which he never recovered, and for the last six months had been a peaceful, dull-eyed animal, eating little and paying attention to no one. Since early July Lobengula suffered intense pain, and it finally was decided to end his misery by the chloroform route. Accordingly, he was bound to the four corners of his cage with stout ropes engaging his feet and his neck and body, and then, after three hypodermic injections of morphine, a sponge saturated with the anaesthetic was placed under his nose where he would inhale the fumes. In twenty-eight minutes he died. Like Jumbo, the big elephant, Lobengula was without an equal in captivity, and it is not likely that another animal ever will be found to fill his place. From the tip of his tail to his nose he measured 9 feet 9 inches, and weighed 217 pounds.

It's awful to die in America, but according to a consular report from Paris, it's worse to die in France. As one step in the state department's campaign to prepare Americans for travel among foreigners, who covert their cash, Consul General Frank Mason warns his countrymen against the luxury of ending their lives in the French capital. "The prices the undertaker may charge for funeral paraphernalia are fixed by ordinances," he says, "but the charges to the family or estate of the deceased are based on the supposed ability or willingness of the surviving relatives to pay. The undertaker presents himself to the relatives as a representative of the municipality, and they are apt to give him a free hand," with the result that extortion follows. The consul general says the usual embalming fee is sometimes raised from $150 to $1,000, or more, for Americans.

Bulwarks of Manhood

Mental Activity, Muscular Strength and Masculine Power are the Essential Bulwarks of Sturdy Manhood

With these you are well equipped for the battle of life; without these you are unfitted for the affairs of business, for the pleasures of the social realm, and for the proper enjoyment of the single or married state. No matter how seemingly successful you may be, yet if you are handicapped by Varicocele, Stricture, Blood Poison, Nervo-Vital Debility, or allied troubles, you are robbed of the full enjoyment of the pleasures that success should bring. Your consciousness of the disease and your knowledge that it is steadily gaining headway is enough to tinge all your thoughts with bitterness. That I am better prepared to combat and conquer this class of diseases than any other specialist in the state has been proven to the entire satisfaction of legions, among them merchants, manufacturers, mechanics, farmers, laborers, literary and professional gentlemen, whom I have cured and made happy. Your Kind of Reading

"Real Life"

THERE are no less than seven striking special articles in the September number of the New Broadway Magazine. They vary in range from a story of "How Roosevelt Rests at Oyster Bay," through "Yachting: The Multi-Millionaire's Supreme Luxury," to the story of the farms operated by children near New York City. There is a society article, an art article, a financial article and a dramatic article. Can you find such a range of interest anywhere else?

"Love"

¶ If you are fond of reading love stories you surely should read those in the September issue of the New Broadway Magazine. Of the ten bright, short stories in this number, these are love stories of unusual interest: "An Unappreciated Comedy" by Elliott Flower, "The Fault of the Fog" by Mary Roberts Rhinehart, "The Spotted Angel" by John Barton Oxford, and "The Special Providence" by Theodosia Garrison. Broadway's stories are by favorite, celebrated writers—the best stories money can buy.

"Character"

¶ Two of Broadway's stories, losing nothing in plot-interest, present interesting character studies—"A Traitor to Tradition" by Frederick Johnston and "At Paillard's" by Montague Glass. There isn't a story in the September Broadway Magazine—or in any other number of the New Broadway Magazine, for that matter—which doesn't make you feel, when you have finished reading it, that your time has been well spent.

"Society"

¶ "The Letters of a Debutante," by Eleanor Hoyt Brainerd, is the most fascinating story of society life in New York that has appeared for years. These "Letters" are brimming over with unusual observations of life in the "400," and are gifted with a bright, humorous vein that is as rollicking as it is original.

"Heart Interest"

¶ Scarcely a Broadway story but lays some claim to this favorite phrase—"Dr. Burke's Rest Cure," by Dorothy Canfield, is a notable example, and has a rare vein of humor, too. Broadway's stories always ring true—they are all of real life—real people—real happenings.

"Life in New York"

¶ The New Broadway Magazine makes a specialty of stories whose scenes are laid in the nation's metropolis. You'll find several of these distinctly Broadway stories in the September number. No room to tell you about them here—but your reading time is so valuable, these busy days, that you owe it to yourself to read them.

"The Stage"

¶ Though by no means a magazine of the stage, the New Broadway recognizes the ever-new interest of the mystic world behind the footlights. Consequently you will find stories of the real life of theatrical folks in the New Broadway Magazine. In the September issue is a typical Broadway story—"A Dab of Rouge" by Anna Alice Chapin—which deals with an episode of behind-the-curtain-life as it really is.

"Pictures"

¶ How much brighter is good reading matter if accompanied by brilliant, artistic pictures that really illustrate!

¶ There are no less than 177 pictures in the September number of the New Broadway Magazine alone!

¶ The above is only a brief idea of what the September number of the New Broadway Magazine has in store for you.

¶ It has rollicking humor and bright verse, too. And if you like to read about the personality and accomplishments of you must not miss the September Broadway. Broadway's regular department—"Prominent People in Paragraph and Picture"—is brighter than ever in the September number.

BRIDGE WHIST CANNOT GO ALONG IN WORK FOR CHURCH

Woman Champion of Game is No Longer a Player and Warns Her Sex.

Winona Lake, Ind., Aug. 23.—Mrs. A. B. Sims, of Des Moines, winner of the woman's whist championship of the United States, who, after gaining the goal that expert feminine card players seek, abandoned the gilt-edged deck and faced about to point out the harm of card playing, will give her message here this evening. She will be the only woman who will appear on the general platform of the Winona Bible conference. What Mrs. Sims has to say in the following interview is of particular interest to the whist-playing women of Indiana, for she is a native Hoosier. She came from Indiana Barlow stock, and her kith and kin are to be found in Indianapolis, in and around Edinburg, and in Hendricks and Shelby counties. She left Indiana when a child, and has since lived in Des Moines, where her husband has a carriage repository.

Her St. Louis Victory.

At St. Louis, in April, last year, Mrs. Sims and her partner, Mrs. Henry Crawford, also of Des Moines, went into the national whist tournament for women at St. Louis, and the two defeated the best teams from Providence, Boston, Chicago and a number of other cities, making the highest aggregate plus, and taking home with them the New Amsterdam trophy, the highest prize offered to women whist players in this country. It was the first time that the trophy had been taken from an eastern city. Before this tournament Mrs. Sims had won the highest prize of the Des Moines Women's Whist club. In her home today is a great quantity of hand-painted china, cut glass and similar prizes which she won in card contests in Des Moines. Her house is so loaded with these trophies that it resembles in a measure the sparkling counters and shelves of a high-class department store. She has a long strip of velvet ribbon to which is attached many gold buttons, worth eight and ten dollars each, each button representing a victory at a whist contest. Mrs. Sims is a niece of Robert Bonner, the New York horseman, who never sent his horses for a money prize, and she has never played cards for money.

Had Nothing Else to Do.

Mrs. Sims lives in an apartment house, and during her whist days she had practically nothing to do but shuffle packs of gilt-edged cards and deal duplicate and bridge whist "hands." She had forty boards of duplicate whist in her house. "It was not uncommon," she said, "for me to begin playing whist at 10 a. m. and continue at table until 11 p. m. After I saw what I was really doing, I burned up my whist board and cards, and I should like to speak in every church in Indianapolis to the women and tell them what card-playing led me to and will lead them to. I belong to Christ church in Des Moines, and when I was most active at the card table I was also trying to do work in the church. My husband was on the board of trustees and I was at the head of the church sick committee.

Saw Evil In It.

"I looked about me in the church and saw that card-playing was undermining our organization. The whist and euchre craze was sweeping the women of the congregation and the church was sinking because of their neglect. The fever to play whist acquired such a hold on me that I abandoned my church work, in fact, I quit attending services. Finally, Mr. Sims and I fell to discussing it, and we concluded that my identity with the church and with the card clubs of Des Moines made my attitude ridiculous. I continued to play cards up to December 17, 1906. I had spent years studying whist from a scientific standpoint. I had given as much thought to the game as a minister of a church would give to the scriptures. Toward the close of my card career I declared that I would give up euchre and bridge whist parties, but would never abandon the regulation game of whist. On December 17, last year, the Presbyterian evangelistic committee was holding a campaign in Des Moines, and on that date I heard Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman preach on amusements. When the service was over I was so weak that I had to be helped to a carriage to get home. I made up my mind that I would never touch a card again.

Cripples Church Work.

"The card craze as it prevails among the women of this country is the most serious competitor the church has today. It is causing them to abandon home and church interests. I have had letters from women in every leading city in the United States in which they declared that the church and society women have gone mad over bridge whist and other card games. Letters in similar strain have come to me from Canada, Europe and Mexico. It was when these messages began to pour in upon me that the hold cards have taken on civilized women fully dawned on me."

Not Speaking for Money.

Mrs. Sims is a polished woman. Her hair is tinged with gray and her eyes sparkle with enthusisam when she talks of the triumphs in the whist game. Her engagements to speak in churches will keep her busy until October 1. She declines to cast her fortunes with lyceum bureaus. "I am not speaking for money," she said. "I want the women of our country to hear my experience. I want to convince them if I can that card playing leads to the dance and to worse, that card playing and Christianity will not go together. I have no children, but I know that the whist craze causes mothers to neglect the interests of their little ones. If I can drive cards out of the churches and society in this country I am willing to give freely of my humble efforts to this end."

HOME FROM HIS VACATION.

Rev. Dr. Sell to Resume Pulpit at Plymouth Church Sunday.

Rev. Dr. Henry T. Sell, pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, who has been spending some time at Cortland, N. Y., will return from his vacation trip this week, and will occupy his pulpit next Sunday as usual, both morning and evening.

Rev. Dr. Sell, during his absence from the city, delivered a series of seven lectures at the Miami Valley Chautauqua, near Dayton, Ohio, on "Some Present Day Questions About the Bible." Information from that point is that the lectures were markedly successful, the average attendance to hear them being over one thousand persons a day.

ESTIMATES OF EXPENSE FOR NEXT YEAR ARE CONSIDERED

Various Departments Hold a Conference and Pruning is Necessary.

With estimates of muncipal expenses for next year fixed at $316,000 and a probable income of $285,000 with the tax levy fixed at $1 it has been found necessary to do some pruning and a meeting of the heads of the departments was held in the mayor's office yesterday to decide just where to apply the knife in order to come within the scope of the funds that will be available.

The estimates as submitted are as follows:

Public Works	$107,950
Public Safety	128,599
Parks	20,740
Health	4,230
Law (about)	4,000
Total (with controller's items)—$316,000.

The board of safety will probably be allowed $6,500 asked for a new police alarm system and $4,200 for a new hook and ladder truck but its request for $6,000 to buy a new fire engine will be cut out. The park board's estimate included a potting house to cost $3,500 and this will be eliminated and the request for $5,000 to purchase a park at Lakeside will be allowed. This department will also be trimmed about $1,250 asked for the improvement of the lake at Swinney park and for swings to be placed upon the grounds.

The expenses of the city, as reported by Controller Schmidt are $20,000 a month and he took occasion to say that the fight against Sunday saloons will probably wipe out a few of them and deprive the city of the revenue derived from that source. About $5,000 of the bonded indebtedness of the city has been wiped out during the current year.

Included in the estimates of the board of public works are the following items:

Repair of streets, $13,000; street cleaning, $17,000; bridges, $2,500; sewer repairs, $3,000; city hall, $3,500; garbage collection, $11,000; city engineer, $3,000; lights, $30,000; new street improvements, $20,000. The board last year received $90,895, but was given an additional appropriation of $5,000. It was found a difficult matter to cut this down and nothing was done with it.

However, to keep within the estimate the city controller will be compelled to lop off some more of the estimates before the matter finally goes to the council for adjustment and a fixing of the levy and the board of public works will probably be the sufferer.

There are over 15,000 different selections in the Pianola catalog. Your Pianola becomes new again with each new piece you play.

DO YOU FEAR YOU COULD NOT PLAY IT WELL?
The Metrostyle, which is in all Pianolas, was invented to enable those who do not know music to play as artistically as those who do.

DO YOU THINK IT IS MECHANICAL?
Practically every living musician of note has endorsed it as being artistic. You may have heard one of the other Piano-players (erroneously called Pianolas), which do play mechanically, unless the player is thoroughly musical.

FINALLY, DO YOU THINK YOU CAN AFFORD ONE?
You can buy a new Model K. Metrostyle Pianola for $215, on the very easy terms of $15 down and $7 a month, with simple interest.

DRIVER THROWN THIRTY FEET IN COLLISION AT RACES

Escapes with Sprained Ankle—Three Close Finishes at Readville.

Readville, Mass., Aug. 23.—After three of the closest finishes in the present grand circuit meeting here, Kruger was returned the winner of the Norfolk stake, valued at $6,000.

While scoring for the first heat, Sam Rysdyk, Wilson Addington and Miss Gay collided at the wire. Lester Dore, of Taunton, Mass., driver of Miss Gay, was thrown in the air and landed fully thirty feet in front of his mare. He escaped with a badly sprained ankle. Cox, who was behind Addington, was thrown against the fence, but was not much injured. None of the horses was hurt in the mix-up.

Geers set the pace in the opening heat with John A. to the distance flag, when McDonald brought up Kruger with a rush, winning by a neck. In the following heat Geers allowed Kruger to lead until near the finish, when he outbrushed the gelding, gaining the decision by a narrow margin. In the final heat, McDonald dropped directly behind John A., and again brought Kruger ahead in a desperate drive through the home stretch, while Darky Hal just nipped second position.

Athasham surprised the talent by taking the Ponkapoag, valued at $4,500. Emboy attempted to spread-eagle his field by gaining a big lead through trotting the first halves in better than 1:03, and lasted barely long enough to win the first heat. In the following heats, the California stallion raced Emboy into submission in the final furlong.

Lotta, owned by Lotta Crabtree, got the better of the field in the 2:08 trot. The summaries:

AMONG THE BOXERS.

Following the return of Bill Squires to San Francisco and the starting of his training at Shannon's quarters near San Rafael, word has been received by cable from Australia that Bookmaker Jack Wrenn will again back him to the extent of $5,000 in another match. Jimmy Coffroth wants to send Squires against the victor in the Schreck-Kaufman go.

Johnny Coulon, of Chicago, the 110-pound champion of the world, is practically matched to meet Young Fitzgerald in a ten-round bout at Milwaukee on Labor day.

Bobby Harris, a 122-pound boxer of Chicago, desires to meet Sammy Moss. Harris defeated Mickey Ford in this city last winter in quick fashion.

Freddie Cole and Young Sharkey, the two fastest boxers of their weight in the state, can be seen at their camping place near Indianapolis putting up daily boxing stunts. The boys are in great shape, and their manager, W. J. Kane, expects to keep them busy this winter. He declares his proteges will give a good account of themselves.

Packey McFarland, who made quick work of Benny Yanger, is now after Kid Herman, who won a ten-round decision over the Tipton slasher at the ball park at Indianapolis last summer. Packey thinks that Herman's game is just as easy as was Yanger's. Herman is at present in Mt. Clemens, and probabilities are that a bout will be arranged between the two in the near future.

CALLS BLUFFTON THIEVES.

Kokomo-Sharpsville Has Not Recovered From Recent Defeat.

Kokomo, Ind., Aug. 23.—Emblazoned in bold letters on a background of white, in the very heart of the town of Sharpsville, is a flaming and somewhat startling advertisement of the base ball games to be played Saturday between the Bluffton and Kokomo team and many are trying to find out if the advertisement has any dire portent.

The announcement reads, "Base ball Saturday, August 24. The Bluffton Thieves. Umpire, Robber Thompson." It evidently has an illusion to the trouble at Bluffton between Thompson and "Bunny" Hare.

NEWCASTLE TO HAVE ELEVEN.

Town Will be Represented by Independent Football Team.

Newcastle, Ind., Aug. 23.—Preparations are already on foot in this city to have a first-class football team when the season opens. Last year this place had a fast eleven and defeated some of the best teams of surrounding cities. A meeting will shortly be called of the players of the city to attend and the selection of a team will then be made.

There is a lot of talent to select from and a very fast aggregation will represent Newcastle. Little will be done outside of practice work until the base ball season closes, as the attractions would conflict with each other for Sunday games.

NEW IDEAS FOR COUNTY FAIR.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 23.—Red-haired women and girls will be admitted free to the fair which will be held here by the local trotting association, which recently absorbed the county agricultural society. Secretary Duffin realized that some new features were necessary and has scheduled in addition a double wedding and a horse show at night.

THEY ARE DESCENDANTS OF TWO PIONEER FAMILIES

Hollopeter and Spencer-Harwood Reunions at Robison Park.

Two notable family reunions were held at Robison park Thursday, when descendants of the Hollopeters, the Spencers and the Harwoods to the number of several hundred met in family gathering to recount the ties that bind in kinship and to cement anew the cordial relations that exist between various branches of these pioneer families.

There were more than three hundred descendants of the Hollopeters in attendance and the events of the day included not only social reunion and a family dinner, but a program of music, recitation, addresses and other numbers to which many of the members of the family contributed. Officers for the new year were elected as follows:

President—Capt. William C. Hollopeter.

First Vice President—Gustis Hollopeter.

Second Vice President—Israel Hollopeter.

Third Vice President—Lee Hollopeter.

Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. Elmer Hollopeter.

Among those present were:

Rev. E. S. Hollopeter, presiding elder of the M. E. church for the Wabash district; Rev. Charles Hollopeter, Wabash, Ind.; Rev. Bert Hollopeter, Covington, Ohio; Rev. Walter Hollopeter, Avilla, Ind.; Dr. Harris Zimmerman and wife, Red Bluff, Cal.; Oscar Hollopeter, Jermina Hollopeter, Susan Hollopeter, May Hollopeter, Andrew Hollopeter, Cynthia Hollopeter, Mrs. Obe, Samuel Wan, Rosi Wan, Israel Hollopeter, Florence Obe, Minnie Hollopeter, Guy Hollopeter, Vincent Hollopeter, Ella Walker, Clarence Walker, Bertha Stevick, Clarence Stevick, Wallace Walker, Avery Hollopeter, Flossie Hollopeter, Frances Hollopeter, Vincent Hollopeter, Herbert Hollopeter, Ermie Hollopeter, Angeline Hollopeter, Elmer Hollopeter, Sam J. The Hollopeter race dates back before the revolution in 1776. Previous to that time the head of the first family landed in America from Holland and settled in Pennsylvania. He had five sons, all of whom had biblical names—Abraham, Andrew, John, Westly and Frederick. At the present time there are over 900 names that have been recorded. Representatives were present from Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and California.

The Ohio branch of the Hollopeter family will hold a reunion at Napoleon, O., August 29, and a large delegation from Indiana will attend. Members of the family expect to consolidate the two branches and hold the reunions alternately in Ohio and Indiana.

Spencer-Harwood Reunion.

Fully one hundred and fifty descendants of the Spencer-Harwood families were present at the reunion, representing two lines of pioneers who came to Indiana when the state was in its infancy, and the reunion event was thoroughly enjoyed. A number of names have been added to the membership roll during the past year, and an effort is being made to bring within the association membership all relatives of the two families. The officers chosen for the year were:

President—George Gloyd.

Secretary—Lew P. Sharp.

Treasurer—Anson Dunten.

Historian—Rev. Charles Harwood.

It was voted to hold the next reunion at Robison park on the third Thursday of August, 1908, and the president, secretary, treasurer and historian were named as a committee on program. Among those present at the reunion were:

ARCHITECT SULLIVAN TO ASSIST IN PLANS OF NEW HOTEL

Builder of Chicago Auditorium is Assistant to Mr. Weatherhogg.

Lewis Sullivan, a man far famed as an architect of the highest skill, has been selected by the board of directors of the new Fort Wayne Hotel company as an assistant to C. R. Weatherhogg, the man to whom the contract for planning the structure of the building was let some time ago. The appointment of Mr. Sullivan was made a month or so ago, but announcement was not made until Thursday night at the meeting of the building committee.

Mr. Sullivan's fame as an architect is world wide. He is best known as the designer of the Auditorium hotel and as an assistant in the designing of the Auditorium Annex, at Chicago. Besides these he was the architect for many of the larger buildings in Chicago and other large cities and the fact that he has been selected by the board speaks with happy prophecy of the new hotel.

Thursday night the committee was engaged in going over the plans with the two architects and everything excepting the material to be used was touched upon. Upon this latter thing it was decided to ask for bids so that the best fire proof material, whose cost comes within the amount set aside for it, may be used.

Bids for tearing down the old church building and the house adjoining it will be received by the excavating committee, composed of S. M. Foster, A. D. Cressler and Louis F. Curdes. It is hoped that everything will be cleared up on the property at the corner of Berry and Harrison streets so that the work of construction may be begun in the early spring.

VOTED AGAINST UNION WITH TWO OTHER CHURCHES

Methodist Protestant Conference at Swayzee Goes on Record.

Swayzee, Ind., Aug. 23.—The Indiana conference of the Methodist Protestant church in a vote yesterday went on record against the proposed union of the Methodist Protestant church with the United Brethren and the Congregational denominations. It is the sentiment of the Indiana members that the church should continue to maintain its separate organization independently of any other denomination.

The vote was brought about after a talk by Rev. T. E. Lancaster, of Columbia City. When he declared that he believed Methodist Protestants ought not to be united with the other denominations, there was applause which indicated the sentiment of the conference.

Statistical reports of much interest to the ministers and members of the church were made at the session yesterday morning. The reports showed the church throughout the state to be in a flourishing condition and doing a grand work. All departments of the church have prospered as never before and bespeaks a continued grand future for the church.

New Officers Chosen.

Officers were elected by the conference late Wednesday afternoon. Dr. James L. Barclay, of Greenfield, was rechosen president. O. S. Heininger, of Anderson, was elected secretary to succeed G. W. Bundy. A. B. Williams, of Kendallville, was chosen assistant secretary; J. W. Albright, of Jonesboro, conference steward.

The stationing committee will consist of three officers and the following men: S. S. Stanton, of Liberty Center; J. G. Smith, of Gosport; W. M. Williams, of Muncie and Hiram Horn, of Tippecanoe.

The examinations of candidates for the ministry were held Tuesday at the church. One of the candidates is Albert W. Conn, of Worthington, formerly of Marion, the son of Ed Conn, who lives in North Marion. The others are E. T. Howe, of Indianapolis; J. F. Rogers, of Maxinkuckee; P. W. Dierburger, of New Haven, and George T. Farrow, of Jamestown.

It is probable three will be ordained, C. S. Heinoger, of Anderson, W. S. Harper and Mr. Dierburger.

The members of the examining board are: S. S. Stanton, D. D., Liberty Center, president; J. O. Ledbetter Swayzee, secretary; W. L. Martin, Dunkirk; F. M. Hussey, absent, of Kendallville; G. W. Bundy, of Rensselaer; J. C. McCain, of Indianapolis, and J. R. Lenhart, of Maples.

Two Interesting Figures.

Rev. G. W. Bundy, an Indian chief, and Rev. S. H. Flood, a physician, who has been preaching for over sixty years, are the two interesting personalities of the conference.

Mr. Bundy comes from Rensselaer. He is chief of the Peoria settlement of Miami Indians, and is the only man of his race in the ministry in Indiana. He is the secretary of the state conference. Mr. Flood is the patriarch of the flock in Indiana. He was born in Ohio and came to Indiana in 1861. His home is Stinesville.

By order of the conference the old board of trustees was continued in office, the Revs. F. M. Hussey, M. F. Iliff and J. A. McBride to serve three years, and the Revs. J. M. Hartley, N. Vice and Stephen Edwards all being named to succeed themselves. The officers of the historical society were named as follows: President, M. F. Iliff; vice president, S. S. Stanton, and secretaary, F. M. Hussey.

SYRIAN SHOWS UP WITH BIG BUMP ON TOP OF HEAD

Looks Pained and is Sore When Case is Continued —The Docket.

A Syrian with a big bump on his head was the feature of the city court bill this morning although he did not get to testify against Charles Rhoads, a negro with whom he had a fight at the new electric building on Holman street yesterday.

He looked pained and occasionally rubbed the big bump on the top of his head and when he was told to come back tomorrow morning as the hearing had been continued he was sore. The two men are laborers on the building and yesterday afternoon the Syrian was at the prosecutor's office with blood streaming from his head and showing that he had been worsted in the argument. Rhoads gave a bond for his appearance.

Hobes Told to Hike.

Four hoboes, picked up in the Nickel Plate yards early this morning, were up for vagrancy and as the judge did not care to burden the county with board bills he gave each of them an hour to leave the city with a warning that if they are brought up here again they will be soaked.

The Other Cases.

John Tallow was up again and his case was continued until Tuesday. He is charged with stealing and the judge is trying to reach his parents in Pittsburg.

The surety of the peace proceeding against Neal Monahan was dismissed.

John Haggerty, drunk, was allowed to go under a continuance.

Jane Ross was fined $1 and costs for provoke as the result of a neighborhood row in the rolling mill district. The fine was suspended.

CONFERS TOO MUCH POWER.

Congressman McCall Does Not Like the New Rate Bill.

Marshfield, Mass., Aug. 23.—Congressman Samuel McCall yesterday delivered an address at the Marshfield fair, in which he criticises the activity of the administration toward big corporations.

After commenting on the $29,400,000 fine imposed against the Standard Oil company Congressman McCall said:

"The question suggested is: Why were not old laws enforced rather than new ones demanded? The practice in government of expending the maximum amount of noise and disturbance to secure the minimum of good may be diverting, but it is costly.

"Economically an industrial crisis at this time would be senseless and wanton, but we should already have had one if our prosperity had not been well nigh invulnerable. There is a likelihood, too, that the step that has been taken will some day lead to the ownership of railroads by the government on the principle that he who fixes the price of a commodity will ultimately use it.

"The efforts of the rate bill will be to augment the executive power beyond all rational limits.

"The tendency of the times appears to be first to centralize all power at Washington and then to have it all exercised by one man. But I say let the people keep to be exercised under their very eyes all the governmental powers not necessary to national unity and safety and then let them adhere to representative government. If you have a government by representatives chosen with reasonable fidelity you will have a government by the people.

THE MARKETS TODAY.

The wholesale produce market was good and large this morning and surpassed all of this week. The receipts of chickens were heavy and they were all cleaned up, although the price on them is rather high now. Butter receipts were heavy, but the market on it was weak. Egg receipts were light and the market was steady. Good fresh stock in eggs is getting to be rather scarce, as the farmers feel that by holding on to them they can get a better price in the later season.

The wheat receipts were moderate and the general market is steady.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Aug. 23.—Business was very small at the opening of the stock market and prices were practically unchanged from yesterday's closing. Union Pacific was marked up ⅝ to 127 and fell back to 126; Baltimore & Ohio was also under pressure but yielded a point; Interborough Metropolitan preferred opened ¾ lower at 23 and receded further to 22½.

Dullness was the distinguishing feature of the market, the fluctuations being narrow and unimportant. The tone was easier, with Reading and Union Pacific most frequently sold. Erie first and second preferred and Manhattan yielded 1⅜ to 1¾. The Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste Marie stock gained 1⅜ to 1⅞. Third Avenue rallied 1½ to 60. Bonds were heavy.

Dealings were largely restricted to a handful of stocks and prices were not essentially changed up to 1 o'clock when the market sagged to the lowest. Manhattan fell 3½ to 115.

Spasmodic selling pressed the list quite flatly, Union Pacific falling 2⅜ below yesterday's closing; Reading 2⅛, Delaware & Hudson 2, Amalgamated Copper, Smelting and Consolidated Gas 1½. Southern Pacific and Great Northern preferred 1⅜ and some others a point. Announcement of a reduction in the semi-annual dividend of Southern Railway preferred of 1½ per cent caused a loss of 3 points in the preferred stock.

The close was active and weak at the lowest. The bear operators centered their attack on Reading, Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper and succeeded in dislodging considerable stocks in the other favorites. Reading made an active fall to 88 a loss of 4 points. The Northwestern stock sold as much below yesterday's closing; Union Pacific 3, Great Northern preferred and Amalgamated Copper 2½ to 2¾, Southern Pacific, New York Central, Northern Pacific, Erie preferred and Smelting 2 to 2½; Atlantic Coast Line 1¾; Louisville & Nashville 1½; Southern Railway preferred sold at 53, a decline of 6 points, and Manhattan touched 2, a loss of 6½.

are within reach refused to discuss the meeting and even denied there had been any trouble at the meeting.

The argument of those who favored passing the dividend was that the company had been outrageously treated by the government. They declared that Standard Oil should go on paying dividends when under such heavy fire.

There were cooler heads among the directors, however, who pointed out many objections to passing the dividend. They argued that passing the dividend might be construed as a confession of guilt just at a time when it was most important that the company take the absolutely innocent stand. They expressed their belief that the enormous fine against the Indiana company would be overthrown by the higher courts.

Such a drastic protest as passing the dividend, they believed, might prejudice the appeal. The final and clinching argument was that the passing of the Standard dividend would complete the work of upsetting the market and further the demoralization of the financial world.

The argument was exceedingly heated for a time, but the conservatives finally prevailed and the $6 dividend was declared. It is the same as declared for similar quarters for the last two years.

OIL TRUST SEEKS INFORMATION

Standard Officer Says Company Will Obey When Law Is Learned.

New York, Aug. 23.—The attitude of the Standard Oil men will be to ask what the law is and when they have learned it, to obey it. This statement in regard to the coming hearing of testimony in the St. Louis case to dissolve the oil trust is made by a man in a position to know the Standard Oil attitude. The Standard Oil men appear to be awaiting with equanimity the hearing which is to begin on Sept. 2. They predict that there will be no such sensational developments as marked the recent inquiry into the Harriman railroads.

Frank D. Kellogg, special counsel for the government, who was special council for the interstate commerce commission at the railroad investigation, is expected to arrive here soon to make arrangements for the taking of testimony.

Day's Happenings in the Industrial World

ATHLETIC TOURNAMENT.

Pennsylvania Employes Ready for Sixth Annual Field Day.

It now rests with the weather man to make the Sixth Annual Field Day of the Pennsylvania Company Employes Athletic association the brilliant affair planned by the committees or only a partial success. The management has left nothing undone that can in anyway advance the prospects of a great event. The program is the best ever offered a Fort Wayne audience and the prizes are numerous and of a high order. Most of them are now on exhibition in the show window of the Shields' clothing store and thousands of passers-by have stopped to admire them. The Packard City band has been engaged for the afternoon and will be promptly in place to discourse sweet music between events from the start to the finish.

The first event of the day will be a ball game at League park at 9:30 o'clock between the Pennsylvania shopmen's team and a team of picked men from the shops east of Lafayette street. Manager C. E. Barnett, of the regular shop team, recognizes the importance of being in the field with his best players, as the east end boys are good in that line and are said to have a team that will do good work. Manager Barnett announces the following line-up for his team: Romary, lf; Koohns, cf; Cherry, 1b; McElfatrick, 2b; Eggeman, c; Meyers, ss; Majors, rf; Rost, 3b; McGuire, Arter and Barry, pitchers; J. O'Connell, umpire. This event will be closed in ample time to allow the spectators to go home, get dinner and make preparations for the main part of the program, which will commence at 12:30 in the afternoon at the Driving park.

The program at the mile tract tomorrow afternoon will be as follows:

220 yard dash.

One-half mile relay race—four men to a team.

100 yard dash.

100 yard dash for members—200 pounds and over.

100 yard dash for members over fifty years of age. Handicap of one yard per year over fifty.

Putting 16-pound shot.

Throwing 12-pound hammer.

Tug-of-war.

Climbing greased pole—twenty feet high.

Running broad jump.

Scaling high wall—12 feet.

Running high jump.

Barrel race.

Potato race.

Catching greased pig—men.

Catching greased pig—boys under 14 years of age.

100 yard dash for sons of members under 14 years of age.

100 yard dash for daughters of members under 14 years.

Horse race—One mile trot.

This will be one of the most interesting numbers on the program for many of the spectators, as it will decide a matter of dispute for many months between the owners of fast horses in the ranks of Pennsylvania employes, and they have some of the best trotters in the city. The entries so far are the flyers owned by R. J. Lyons, John Offner, Joseph Stewart, Peter Carter, Jasper Compton, James Laughlin and Frank Offner.

The railway officials are taking an unusual interest in Field Day this year and this morning instructions were given the heads of all the departments of the shops to suspend operations tomorrow and a Sunday quiet will prevail in the great works. Interest in other circles is also very marked this year, indicating that there will be a big attendance at the park from the other than railway sources.

MOULDERS HAVE MEETING.

The local body of the Moulders' union held its first meeting last night since the settlement of the strike at the Bass foundry and it was fairly well attended. John Hughes, the state organizer and business agent of the moulders, was present and participated in the business. Mr. Hughes left last night, after the meeting, for Indianapolis.

BOB TRAVIS RESIGNS.

Tomorrow Robert Travis will sever connection with the sales department of the Fort Wayne Electric works and after a short rest will take one of three other positions that are open to him. The young man has been employed at the Electric works for four years, the latter part of that service being in the capacity of a clerk in the sales department. He is a member of the Euclid quartet, which has been in great demand at entertainments in the city the past year.

WILL GO VISITING.

Pleasure trips that have been planned for next week include the following Pennsylvania engineers and firemen or members of their families: Mrs. C. E. Glass to Warsaw; Mrs. G. L. Lehman to Chicago; Engineer and Mrs. R. D. Todd to Toledo; Mrs. J. C. Pearson to Chicago; Fireman and Mrs. F. W. Spencer to Chicago; Fireman and Mrs. E. S. Hoffman to Ada, Ohio; Mrs. J. A. Keplinger to Chicago; Miss Margaret Sheahan, daughter of Engineer W. D. Sheahan, to Chicago; Mrs. A. M. Walsh to Chicago; Mrs. George Ek to Chicago; Mrs. O. T. Peterson to Chicago.

FURNITURE COMPLETE WRECK.

The home of Wabash Yardmaster W. E. Rowe, 309 West DeWald street, was the scene of a flood last evening, which completely ruined a fine piano, several rugs and much of the furniture. Without warning a water pipe burst and sent a spray of water in all directions, thoroughly saturating everything before a plumber could be secured to shut off the water. Mrs. Rowe, who is just recovering from a severe illness, was alone in the house and her clothing was saturated by the water in her efforts to stop the leak. The loss will be considerable.

ANOTHER MACKINAC EXCURSION

Col. R. G. Thompson, of the Wabash, has been advised of the date of the annual excursion to Mackinac Island over that route. The excursion will take place on Monday, September 2, and it will be part rail and part lake. The "City of Alpena," one of the best boats on the lake, will be awaiting the arrival of the excursionists at Detroit to take them to Mackinaw. The usual fare, $5, will prevail.

SOLD TWO TUBULAR BOILERS.

Yesterday the Bass Foundry and Machine company booked an order for two horizontal tubular boilers, each of 100 horse power capacity, from the C., A. & C. branch of the Pennsylvania lines, to be erected in the power plant at Oreville, Ohio. Work on these boilers will be taken up at once.
